ATLANTA.

THURSDAY MORNING, AUGUST 12, 1870.

STEINBROOK has 120 Mormon subjects in his Samson kingdom.

The Richmond Enquirer says that Andrew Johnson was quite as much a wifemade as a self-made man.

This jetty system is an undoubted success, and the permanent deepening of the mouth of the Mississippi, "with all that the name implies," is one of the inevitable blessings of the near future.

The governor elect of Kentucky, James B. McCreary, was a colonel in the confederate army, and is only about forty years of age. The state of Kentucky gives him 40,000 majority, however, which ought to be a sufficient guarantee of his good behavior.

The world has almost forgotten that the Dutch are still hammering away at the Atlantic Ocean, and are still conquering them. The shrew in the mean time is subduing the Dutch, and is likely to prove a steering advantage to the Atlanites.

Catharistus Columbus is to be canonized by the Roman church, for his services in the discovery of America, which is the only country in the world where the Catholic church is perfectly free from all interference by the civil government.

The cause of Duncan, Sherman & Co.'s failure, so says the Louisville Courier-Journal, was owing to the fact that they employed fifty clerks, all of whom parted their hair in the middle. Why the bank of England couldn't stand any such nonsense as that.

The constitutional convention of Missouri is not satisfied that the 1,018 one thousand-dollar bonds of the Missouri Pacific railroad, the property of the state, are destroyed, as reported, and presents have been taken to prevent their payment. The bonds have not materialized.

It is generally agreed by the republican press in New York that the next party platform must contain a thirty-third resolution. The Utica Herald, supporting this fact, says: "It ought to have had a place in the platform last year. No one can oppose it now without meaning mischief to the party and to the country."

The workmen in the Washington navy yard were compelled to work all day on the occasion of the obsequies of the late ex-President Johnson, and are said to have been quite rebellious because they had no opportunity to grieve for the dead statesman, while the dapper clerks in the navy department were given a whole day to weep, but spent it in a very frivolous manner.

The tunnel under the English channel will be constructed between Cape Grisane and Tolberton. It will be twenty-four miles long, and as the French assembly and English parliament have passed their respective channel tunnel bills, and there is plenty of money in the hands of the tunnel companies, the work will soon be commenced.

Gen. L. P. Walker (former Confederate secretary of war) is proposed for the position of president of the Alabama constitutional convention. Gen. Walker makes the best breeding officer of a legislative body that we ever saw in the chair. He is prompt, dignified, and inexhaustibly just, with regard to party or persons. We have little doubt of his election if he will accept the nomination.—Columbus Enquirer.

It is proposed to make New Orleans a terminal point for the Pacific Mail Steamship company, instead of New York. It is argued that the distance from New Orleans to Aspinwall, so much less than from New York, the cost of carrying the mails would be much reduced, and that the change could not wait for the completion of imports which are already consumed by the western and northwestern states to make the move a profitable one. The annual yield of Costa Rica alone is placed at about 250,000 bags, one half of which is consumed by the western states. If this change should be made, it would save the west and northwest and south would use very much more. A large portion of this could undoubtedly be paid for in western products.—St. Louis Trade Journal.

THE PRICE OF BREAD.

The highest price of wheat was reached last Thursday when $1.45 was the ruling price for sound and dry wheat in Nashville. A decline of ten cents has since been established in that market, which practically determines the price of the crop in Tennessee. While the papers of that state freely give many reasons why the market did not go lower, yet they nearly all agree in advising the farmers to sell their surplus at present prices. It is, says the Nashville Union, a time of doubt, and present rates are high enough to secure the producers of Tennessee a fair profit. The truth is, Tennessee wheat cannot be shipped to the seaboard of the northern states at a profit, and its market is dependent, as the Chattanooga Times truthfully says, on the cotton belt and the consumption of home non-producers. In view of a large crop of corn that is nearly assured the Commercial is, therefore, convinced that the present Nashville quotations cannot be maintained. Sell now, it says to its readers.

The extent of the foreign demand is still uncertain. The weather in England is now good, and the crop, whatever it is, will be secured in good condition. From Russia the latest reports are very conflicting. A share only of the surplus of France has been cut off by the floods. There is no evidence that the amount required from this country to supply England will be unusually great. It is, therefore, safe to assume that the price of the crop in Tennessee will be determined by the market in England.

The news from the Black Hills is not very encouraging to the gold-seekers. Mr. Jenny has found the northern rim of the gold region. It extends along the divide between Rapid and Box Elder creeks, and no gold can be found further north except that which has been deposited there by water flowing from the divided gold region. The area of the aridiferous yield in the Black Hills is estimated by Mr. Jenny to be 1,000 square miles. Its length is about forty miles and its breadth from thirty to thirty-five. The greater part of it will not pay for working, and much of it will require a liberal investment of capital to produce any profit.

CONGRESS DUREMAN, of Kentucky, is confident that Senator Stevenson will be re-elected.

high the price at which they purchase it. He knows that when he comes to buy the price will be what he chooses to make it, as he can take advantage of the overstock and select his time. This is the lesson of the hour.'

THE PUBLIC PURSE.

The report of the committee appointed by Secretary Bristol to examine the books, accounts and moneys in the office of the treasurer, substantially establishes the faithfulness of the retired and young clergymen. He was faithful among the faithful. The examination was commenced on the evening of June 30, and closed on the 15th of July. A thorough count was made of every note and piece of fractional currency, as well as an accurate count and weight of the coin. The following are the committee's items of deficit: package stolen from the cash room June 2, 1870, $47,097.25; package stolen from the redemption division, Feb. 18, 1870, $1,000; counterfeit note received in redemption division, $50; short cash in liquidation of national banks in liquidation $30; short cash in specimen currency, $6.63; short cash in fractional currency, 15 cents; short cash in copper, 40 cents; total, $48,174.83. But an excess of cash in the various divisions to the extent of $356.42, reduces the total deficit to $47,818.41. The stolen pack of $1,000 consisted of notes that had been cancelled; the $50 counterfeit note has been redeemed; the $50 short cash in liquidation of national banks in liquidation $30; short cash in specimen currency, $6.63; short cash in fractional currency, 15 cents; short cash in copper, 40 cents; total, $48,174.83. But an excess of cash in the various divisions to the extent of $356.42, reduces the total deficit to $47,818.41.

Daily Constitution.

PLEASURE.

The bushes are coming,
With music and cymbals,
And circles of girls;
Arouse their brown arms;
With gesture of purple,
That serve but to heighten
Their sinewy charms.

The bronze feet are moving
In rhythmic measure;
They are dancing, singing,
The quiet time to the dance,
The real pain of the monsieur,
Whose steps are in passing,
A cynical glance.

Then signs from their number
The queen of the dances,
Whose dark eyes are filled with
The fire of desire;
Her bosom still has from
The pulse of the dance, as
She lies at the feet of
Her amorous sire.

He leaves her red lips
With a kiss, and a smile,
And stills with his dark hand
The passionate throes
Of the palace of pleasure;
To steep the same hands in
The blood of his foes.

Summary of State News.

GAINESVILLE.

A straggling halo of cotton can scarcely be seen upon the streets.

—Gen. Longstreet has again returned to the city. It is now thought he has decided to locate among us.

—The brandy masters are all vigilantly engaged in distilling, and making preparations for so doing in this section.—[Southron.]

CUMMING.

—The gin-house, gin, blacksmith shop, hub and spoke factory at the McConnell old mill, in Milton county, were destroyed by fire on Saturday last. Loss $3,000.

—Mr. Robert Douglass killed, on yesterday, a large rat-sneake, near the residence of Mr. George Kellogg.—[Clarion.]

MARION.

—Two hundred and sixteen men fell at Griswoldville, and yet there is not a marked grave on the battle-ground—not a head-board, or anything else to give the name of any who fell in this fight.

—We had a fine rain on Monday night.—[Telegraph.]

COLUMBUS.

—One house in Columbus sometimes makes $300 Saturday night, by selling at retail.

—A farmer near Goshen, in Alabama, expects a yield of 300 bushels of rice from one acre.

—Farmers around Columbus report that the negroes who they employ by the day on their farms, have to be paid for their day's labor every night, or they cannot work for they have nothing to eat and what money they can make in one day, is for provisions the next.—[Enquirer.]

SAVANNAH.

—Mrs. Donald MacDonald, had one of her knees severely injured by falling from a tree, on Monday.

—We had a $150 fire on Monday morning.

—Business is picking up.—[News.]

HOME.

—The half of the Young Men's Christian Association, was dedicated on Sunday afternoon.

—Hugh Gr. ss and Father Bright have closed their series of services in our city.—[Commercial.]

COVINGTON.

—Covington has been visited by refreshing rains.

—An infant was exhumed on the farm occupied by Green Pickett, colored, in this country, on Monday last, the legal author, it's believed that the same had been foully dealt with. Inquest was held, and the coroner to the health to have it sent almost east to east. It was further ascertained that Jane, a daughter of Green, was the mother of the child, and it was destroyed to conceal his disgrace in giving birth to an illegitimate child.—[Star.]

—Two first-class sleeping cars are in course of construction, and nearly approaching at the Georgia railroad shop.

—New sweet potatoes 20 cent per quart.

—Constitutional.

ATLANTA.

—A case of somnambulism occurred last Sunday night at the residence of Mrs. Hamilton, late of the late B. H. Hamilton about three miles from this city. A sister of Mrs. Hamilton was on a visit, about midnight she got up and lit a match, and with it lighted a lamp. A young lady, Miss Texas Hamilton, of Thomaston, was in the room, and the explosion of the match awoke her, but she did not realize it. Mrs. Barlow went out of the room, then went back entrance into the back yard, then into the front yard through the front gate into the highway, leading to Smithville, down that road about half a mile, and into the woods on the right of the road, where she wandered until morning, having been awakened sometime during the night by the rain. She says she did not know how she came to be where she was found. Not long after she left the house, Mrs. Hamilton noticed the light in the room and went to see what was the matter. She discovered that her sister had left the house when she immediately aroused the inmates and all commenced a vigorous search for the missing one. They looked in vain until day, when they found her in the woods about three quarters of a mile from the house. Mrs. Barlow received no injury whatever with the exception of a slight bruise in her right arm.—[Republican.]

SUMMERTIME.

—Mrs. Rudick and C. A. have performed delicate surgical operation on the eye of Henry D. Brown, a man, who lost his sight by a powder explosion while digging a well for Mr. Joseph A. Brown some months ago, in Dry Valley. Since the accident Henry has been totally blind, except for the last two or three weeks, when his left eye appeared to recover a portion of its strength. It enabled him to feel his way along the street; but generally he had to be led by a child. His right eye was entirely put out by a powder explosion, and probably would not return him to his pain, as no effort could restore sight. The patient was placed under influence of chloroform and Drs. R. and C. extracted two chips of rock from the eye. The size of these pieces was surprising—one we are told, being as broad as a man's finger nail.—[Gazette.]

SAVANNAH.

—Mr. J. C. Chisolm, an Julian street, near Jefferson, has just completed a miniature which is a model of ingenuity, skill and mechanical genius. This work represents a complete farm house and mill, on the model of the many that are to be seen in the upper part of Georgia. In the back ground is a dwelling, on the left is a small cottage or summer house with trees and shrubbery as surroundings. Between the houses runs a little stream, that flows over the edge of the hill, and turns the wheel of the mill below, which is perfect in its construction. A great deal of ingenuity and labor has been expended by a neat picket fence, across which is a set-saw board with the figure of a little girl on either end, and in the yard is a regular kuklux, which every now and then rises out of the ground near the corner of the cottage, and as suddenly disappears. The entire work is operated by delicate machinery concealed, and when wound up runs two hours.—[News.]

—Mr. H. G. Holcombe, of Griffin, on Sunday last, aged 60 years.

—Mr. John Thomas, of Columbus, Aug. 2nd.

—On Sunday in Athens, Mrs. E. Hemmerich, 9th, Mr. H. A. Byrd, of Rollinsville. Aged 50 years.

—The western trooper, "Red Cloud," is said to have shown a trial recently in 3:14.

—A metallic sort of marriage is one where the bride's tin is matched by the bridegroom's brass.

—An Indian maiden who wears army pants and chews tobacco goes by the name of "Puffie" Weller.

—A New England father, who has been presented with twins six times in succession, advertises "boys to let."

—"Kitty Wells," a $2000 tr. tress, died suddenly in Canada of congestion of the lungs.

—To sit at the spring, drink at the bar and smoke at the desk, is the hard命运 of those whoarry the watering place resorts.

—Miss Lillian D. Lockwood runs a paper in Jewell county, Several girls hereaway, are in the newspaper business, and with a little more prompting would succeed in getting a paper of their own.

—A new society has just been organized at Springfield, Ill., called the "Cosmo-litarians." It is composed of bachelors and married men whose wives are off for vacation. The object of the constitution and by-laws would doubtless prove interesting reading.

—To win the beauteous smile which steals over the face of a car driver when a passenger accidentally drops a nickel into the top of his cap, is the chief attraction of the day.

—And then comes the handsome boy declaiming to look it up, is enough to cause a case of jumping toothache.

—Grace Greenwood is doing England in a delightful way. Her "Notes" are sprightly and enjoyable. She is very popular, and is to be seen in every hotel here for the first time to secure an alteration in the copyright law. We dined him, but we outwitted him, and he "Chuzze-witzed" him.

—A Boston school teacher of ten years is to go to the West Indies.—"Dessie" Sissie! I saw attend school again till I get some new cuffs and collars and Jew-dry dear Mama agrees with me that it is my Duty to take the shine out of that Upstart Mammy Jones, and I'll do it if I never lend nothing.

—"Woolies," the celebrated English race-horse, now thirteen years old, was recently sold at auction, bringing forty-three hundred guineas. "Glaesdale" was said to be the fleetest horse in England, and when he won the Derby in his third and only foal in 1829, it was said that he ran a mile in 1:39. In the same year he won the St. Leger and the two thousand guineas stakes, setting immense sums for his owner and trainers.

—A Kentucky clergyman, passed in the middle of a sermon, he was dead.

—A young boy who had been working in a mine, was sent to the hospital.

—We have nothing to eat and what money they can make in one day, is for provisions the next.—[Enquirer.]
